OLD TUG ELEU UNDER HAMMER BY AUTHORITY.

TERRITORIAL TUG ELEU.

After serving the Monarchy, Provisional Government, Republic and Territory of Hawaii for nearly a score of years, the old tug Eleu will be sold at public auction at Brewer's wharf on Monday February 15. The Territorial government has no further use for the boat, having gone out of the towage business. Since the day Hawaii became a Territory the Eleu has been somewhat of a drag on the treasury.

The fate of the vessel was sealed on January 4 when the County government went into effect. It was proposed by the Supervisors to dispose of the Eleu for a cash equivalent that is sadly needed.

Superintendent Holloway has set the date of sale for February 15, and the tug will be offered at an upset price of $5,000.

The Eleu has seen hard and long service. She is old, and cannot compare in looks or speed with the trim, swift and modern Fearless, which now enjoys a monopoly of the towage business. The tug was brought here from San Francisco by Spreckels, but as the government had then a monopoly of towing, the vessel was pressed upon the Hawaiian monarchy, and her name was changed from "Live-ly" to "Eleu." The old tug Eleu was replaced by the Eleu and Captain Rice became her first commander.

In the successive changes of government the Eleu did all the towing in the harbor, but since 1900 she has done little besides towing scows to sea and performing other drudgery. Although condemned to do the city's scullery work, the Eleu had her holidays, when with flags and pennants flying and with the Hawaiian Band aboard, she cruised about the harbor serenading the boat clubs and vessels. Her last holiday was while Admiral Evans' fleet was in port. On the day of the races indulged in by the tars the tug was used by the band.

Captain A. Fuller, the harbor-master, is in charge of all data concerning the vessel, and intending purchasers are referred to him for information.

MARSHAL HENDRY WILL GO TO JAPAN FOR ADACHI

That the United States has a very long arm is a fact which will be amply proven to a number of Japanese in Honolulu during the next few weeks. United States Marshal Eugene R. Hendry will leave for Japan on the steamer America Maru on Sunday with extradition papers for Adachi, the Japanese who gained considerable notoriety as secretary of the "Ten-Dollar-Club," an organization which was made for the purpose of importing women from Japan to this country and then assisting the importers from being convicted in the courts; also for the protection of Japanese gamblers whenever they should be charged with crime and to in other ways promote their disreputable work.

The large number of Japanese at present serving sentences in Oahu Prison bear testimony to the fact that the club was effectually broken up. An indictment was returned against F. M. Brooks, the attorney, with reference to his own alleged connection with the Japanese, and Adachi was wanted as a witness. About this time Adachi left Honolulu. He stowed away on a steamer for Japan and it has been stated that numerous people were interested in his return to his native land. The indictment against Mr. Brooks was later dismissed.

As soon as Adachi had left Hawaii

the Federal authorities took steps to secure his arrest on arrival in Japan and his extradition. He had been indicted for perjury in connection with testimony that he had given during the trials of members of the Ten-Dollar-Club. Cablegrams were sent to the Department of Justice at Washington and through diplomatic channels Japan was communicated with. As a result Adachi was arrested as he was attempting to escape from the steamer at Yokohama. He is being held there to await the arrival of Marshal Hendry with the extradition papers and it is expected that Mr. Hendry will be able to make the trip to Japan, secure the prisoner, and return to Hawaii by the first week in March.

The extradition documents are bulky. They contain original warrants, indictment, and various other matters connected with the case. There is a warrant for arrest by Marshal Hendry in Japan and the Japanese embassy at Washington have also attached to the document a statement guaranteeing to the Japanese government the correctness of the various signatures on the warrants, including those of President Roosevelt, Secretary of State John Hay, and others.

It is stated that this is the first time the United States has ever made use of its extradition treaty with Japan. A young son of Marshal Hendry will accompany him on the trip.

THINKS PREACHERS SHOULD STUDY LAW.

For years Rev. J. E. Herman, of Milford, N. H., has been studying law, and now he has been admitted to the bar. "I have done all this study," he says, "without in any way slighting my duties as preacher of the gospel. For instance, Monday instead of being the so-called 'blue Monday,' was devoted by me to the study of some branch of law. The knowledge of law is helpful to all professions and as much to the ministry as any other. Is not your congregation the jury and will not a convincing argument carry weight in matters religious as in matters of law?"

ELECTRICITY THE COMING CURE-ALL.

Dr. D'Arsonval, lecturing in Paris last week on the effects of electricity upon human beings, expressed the belief that the world is on the eve of a therapeutical revolution, electricity being the medicine of the future. He demonstrated the utility of electrical treatment in skin diseases and said that under anesthesia produced by electricity a patient could be subjected to light surgical operations without narcotics.
